

Cosmic Wars (1 of 2)

Previously

Things did not turn out well for the Avengers during the fight with Thanos. Thor was called away to deal with matters on Asgard, whilst the others were sent away to locations unknown.

Scene 1

Kree Homeworld, 20th October 2018, 07:14 UTC

The Avengers appear in the compound that once harboured the Supreme Intelligence

Iron Man: Well, that was unpleasant

Captain America: We can recover later, we need to get back and stop Thanos before it's too... (Mar-vell* enters the chamber)

Mar-vell: You're not the enemy

Yellowjacket: No need to sound so disappointed.

Hawkeye: I guess you have a lot of questions about how we got here. Truth is, we have no idea

Mar-vell: You were blasted by a combination of the space and time gems during your battle with Thanos, you have been transported here, nearly a month after that battle (they all look at him) I knew of your battle and deduced the rest

Captain America: If this is the future, then that means...

Mar-vell: Thanos was defeated.

Wasp: Really? Wow, he was handing our asses to us in every fight.

Iron Man: I activated the new Avengers Protocols before we left Earth but we probably need to get back home. Any chance your people can provide us with a ship?

Mar-vell: Perhaps but (they look out a window and see a planet in close proximity with the blasts coming from both planets) you might struggle to leave; we've got a war in the way. (Fade to black)

(Return to colour)

Miss Marvel: What happened here?

Mar-vell: It happened during the battle with Thanos. The Kree people woke up one morning and found another planet within our orbit. They attacked our planet, claiming we were encroaching on their orbit. Our military is weakened since the Supreme Intelligence fell but we have been able to hold them back.

Iron Man: We might be able to help.

Captain America: Agreed. Iron Man, Vision, Miss Marvel. Give them a hand. The rest of us will find a ship and meet you (Iron Man, Miss Marvel and the Vision take off through the window, smashing it on the way out)

Mar-vell: I too must return to battle, there should be some ships outside if they haven't all been smashed (Hulk grunts as Mar-vell flies out of the building, using the same window the others went through)

Captain America: Let's move (the rest of the Avengers run through the compound outside, where they can see the full extent of the fight, with Tamaranian fire blasts and Kree blasts combining everywhere, a Tamaranian is blasted down and lands nearby, she begins to recover, the Avengers prepare to fight)

Koriand'r: Nush na (her hand sets alight) Nush na ma kai (she rushes over to Hawkeye and kisses him for a few seconds before releasing him)

Hawkeye: Wow, you are one messed up (mutter) but admittedly gorgeous (stops muttering) alien

Koriand'r: You are not the aliens who are destroying my people. Do you ally yourself with them?

Yellowjacket: Yes (they prepare to fight but Captain America holds them back)

Captain America: Wait! Let's hear her side of this.

Koriand'r: My home world of Tamaran was peaceful until the day when this planet encroached on our orbit. We draw our strength from the sunlight, with this planet limiting that our people are dying. My sister was sent to negotiate peace with the Kree, to try and find a way for our peoples to co-exist.

Captain America: What happened?

Koriand'r: Her body was sent to us in pieces (the Avengers look at each other)

Wasp: That doesn't sound like something Mar-vell would do.

Koriand'r: Allow me to escort you to my planet. The air there should be breathable and you can see our side of the story. (The Avengers look at each other)

Captain America: Hulk, Panther and Wasp, see if you can find anything from this end to verify her story, we'll head to Tamaran and see what we can dig up from there (Captain America heads off with Koriand'r, Yellowjacket and Hawkeye, Black Panther scans the area in infra-red then ultra-violet)

Black Panther: There is something of interest in the lower levels of the compound, a large energy signature similar to that of our alien friend

Hulk: Let's go meet 'em (he punches his fist)

Orbit

The Kree and the Tamaranians are fighting hard in space, neither side giving up in the fight, Tamaranians seem to be able to take Kree blasts whilst the Kree use their forcefields to protect them from Tamaranian starbolts

Iron Man: You gotta wonder if half these guys even know what they're fighting over (his shields take the Tamaranian blasts, he blasts them with repulsor rays, knocking them out) how are they even breathing in space?

Vision: Biological analysis indicates that their bodies absorb sunlight for energy, they do not require air to breathe

Miss Marvel: (Blasting back a few Tamaranians) do they have any weaknesses?

Vision: Possibly. Keeping them away from sunlight for prolonged periods would weaken them, over days it could kill them

Iron Man: Err, I was hoping for a more immediate solution

Koriand'r escorts a ship to a landing platform on Tamaran, near the royal palace. Captain America, Yellowjacket and Hawkeye

Hawkeye: How do we know we can trust her, Cap? I mean, she hasn't even told us her name (Koriand'r stops, seemingly embarrassed)

Koriand'r: My apologies, on your world, my name translates as Star Fire

Yellowjacket: I wouldn't worry about him, he's still embarrassed after you kissed him

Starfire: For my people, lip contact is the best way to assimilate a language

Captain America: So what exactly is it you wanted to show us, Starfire?

Starfire: What remains of my sister.

Inside the palace

Starfire instructs the guards to let them pass as she follows her into her Quarters, a lavish room

Hawkeye: Wow, nice apartment, you like a princess or something?

Starfire: Yes, with my sister gone, I suppose I'm next in line for the throne

Hawkeye: Oh...

Starfire: You see the boxes, those contain the pieces they sent. (She looks away)

Captain America: Yellowjacket, do you think you can shrink down and see what you think of it?

Yellowjacket: Yeah, I suppose. (He opens one of the boxes and shrinks down taking a look at the fibres of the lock of hair, he returns to normal size)

Captain America: Well?

Yellowjacket: I can't really tell. The hair is rather alien to me. Were you sent any of her flesh?

Starfire: In the next box (Captain America opens it and Yellowjacket shrinks down to take a look)

The Hulk breaks down a door to a Kree genetics lab, several Kree scientists attack, the Wasp flies by and blasts them in the face with her stingers, knocking them out, a woman in the shadows just shakes her head.

Unknown: So, you've discovered us. Now what?

Wasp: I don't know who you are but... We have you outnumbered, step out of the shadows

Unknown: As you wish, but I warn you, you may not like what you see (she steps out of the shadows to reveal Komand'r, a tamaranian with Black Hair) now what?

Black Panther: You are the sister that was sent here to bring peace

Komand'r: You can call me Blackfire. The idiots from Tamaran thought I was trying to bring peace. I was helping the Kree overthrow that idiot Mar-vell, in return they'd make sure I'd take the throne of Tamaran. (The Wasp flies in and tries to blast her but it has no impact) pathetic (she begins to throw dark fire balls at them but Black Panther and the Wasp manage to duck, they have no impact on the Hulk, Blackfire tries to attack the Hulk but he grabs her hand and smashes her multiple times against the ground, knocking her out)

Black Panther: Perhaps it would be best if we take her back to Tamaran, showing her people the Kree's attack was a lie (they head outside and find another Kree ship)

Hulk: Hope you remember how to fly this thing

Black Panther: I remember (he takes off and heads into space but the ship is soon attacked by Tamaranians, Iron Man, Miss Marvel and the Vision come to assist)

Iron Man: Dare I ask what's going on?

Wasp: Cover us and we'll explain later

Tamaran

Yellowjacket comes out and grows back to normal size

Yellowjacket: That's definitely a fake (Starfire looks around)

Starfire: Really, but that means... (Hulk knocks the door down)

Hulk: It means your sister is still alive (he tosses Blackfire in, now tied up, Starfire goes to untie her)

Iron Man: I wouldn't recommend doing that. Black Panther got her to confess that she started the wars with the intent of taking the throne of the planet.

Starfire: Is that true, sister?

Blackfire: Yes but you can all go rot, I've got better things to do (she escapes her bonds and flies away)

Starfire: I'll tell the commander to withdraw his forces.

5 hours later

Mar-vell and Starfire shake hands

Mar-vell: We'll work to try and separate our planets, according to the scans neither planet is in the right orbit anyway.

Iron Man: It all worked out for the best.

Mar-vell: I can't thank you enough Avengers, I'll provide you with a nicer ship to get home.

The Avengers take off with both the Kree and the Tamaranians wearing them off, Captain America looks sad

Iron Man: We just stopped a war, so why do you look so glum?

Captain America: Blackfire is still out there, and I doubt we've seen the last of her
