Previously

The warriors are dropping like flies. A once mighty band of 10 warriors has been chopped in half. Only 5 now remain, with the advantage that fewer survival packs are required. Meanwhile the Penguin gained the Electrocutoner as his enforcer and Nevar and Dominor prepare to wage war, will they be ready for Nevar's secret weapon?

Crossfire

Key:

Red Dots: Dominor's forces
Black Dots: Trees
Brown Dots: Nevar's demons
Green Dots: The warriors

Haryad: Warriors, be aware, there are troops approaching you from both sides, and I will have to drop my protection and recharge my energies. Stay out of sight if you can

The warriors are quickly made aware as Demons are approaching from the west, and Dominor's armed men from the east, seeking to avoid stray gunfire, the warriors choose the trees surrounding Dominor's side as an appropriate cover. Dominor's men open fire on the demons, the demons are able to take several shots before they eventually succumb to the bullets

As the battle continues, Aryen is the first to make a move to the closest tree, knowing they can't stay behind cover indefinitely. Aryen makes it safely. Demons begin to catch up with Dominor's men and claim several of them in a flash of light. To add to the demon's advantage, Nevar has brought in his secret weapons. Aryen gives an all clear for Fyraf to join him behind cover.

Fire demons are brought into the fray and as their fire consumes many of Dominor's men, the warriors realise their time is short. Narex is signalled to run to the next cover point, he is successful, largely down to the fact that Dominor's men are otherwise occupied. Hagal soon joins them and Jocal follows, but they need to move more quickly to survive

With many of Dominor's men either dead or distracted, Aryen makes his move, he makes it to the next tree, and the other warriors follow in the same pattern as they had previously. The warriors hear the sound of Dominor's reinforcements arriving, some of whom are armed with sniper rifles; they make their next move with all needed haste.

Demons fall with a single strike from a sniper bullet but the demons are joined by another of Nevar's enforcers, Bizarro. The warriors repeat the same pattern as before and before long they have made it well out of the range as Bizarro uses his heat vision to atomise all of Dominor's forces. Nevar won this battle but the war rages on.

Hagal: By far, this was the toughest battle yet and I feel the situation on the island could be dire if situations like these continue to happen

Jocal: This is unbelievable right now; I feel that the battle between Dominor and Nevar will get worse if this is going to continue.

Aryen: This battle has really shaken things up, we thought this was getting hard enough but it looks like things have just become worse.

Fyraf: This battle is simply trouble, they'll get in our way and this battle is going to cause some difficulties for us in the future.

Scene 2

The Royal Palace 10:00 BST

Dominator watches the battle through the eye

Dominator: Interesting. (He turns to his remaining men) keep a close eye on that one (he points to Bizarro) identify any weaknesses we can exploit. Nevar must not survive. (His men leave, Dominor's phone starts to ring) speak, Calculator

Calculator: The Penguin keeps asking me for specialists

Dominator: Then let him have them, I have no interest in how the war progresses, so long as it progresses.

Calculator: In which case, I want my payment.

Dominator: I have no money with which to pay you.

Calculator: You'd better have a better answer; I could have every Supervillain I can contact on your doorstep within seconds

Dominator: All that would accomplish is the loss of your operatives and don't try and hack my account, I have none

Calculator: But I notice there's a considerable amount of gold in the house, and oh, whoops, I've just tipped SHIELD off about the fire I've been covering up

Dominator: Goodbye, Noah (he turns off his phone and destroys it, a SHIELD drone is heading towards the castle, it fires a missile, Dominor steps to the side and lets the missile hit, it detonates but it has little impact on the castle, before Dominor could examine the missile, multiple Calculator robots begin to fire upon Dominor) et pulverem tuum testis (the robotic shells of the calculator robots turn to dust)

Stone Soldiers

The warriors come across another survival challenge

“I see you only have enough supplies for 3 people, use the stones before you to build the statues, but be quick. When I say that time is up, the unbuilt stones will disappear, along with any hope for a survival pack.

Let the challenge begin!

The warriors discover another of Dominor’s sick games, they find a parchment that reads that the stones they see once formed great statues (although not large) and to gain survival packs they will need to rebuild them. Under Aryen’s directive, everyone begins collecting the stones for the first (of 3) statues. Aryen, Fyraf and Jocal have a slight lead but the others do not appear to be struggling

The warriors keep up the pace but as the head of the midday sun begins to hit them, it begins to affect their stamina. It is therefore a relief that the pieces for the first statue are ready to be assembled. Hagal and Aryen start building the statue, leaving the others to collect the remaining pieces for the other statues, it is gruelling work.

With the first pieces of the statue now in place, Aryen and Hagal make decent progress in their assembly of the statue, meanwhile Fyraf, Jocal and Narex continue to haul the stones, making decent progress under the tough conditions. Fyraf seems to be leading the group, with the other warriors not too far behind.

Aryen and Hagal finally finish the construction of the first statue, and as luck would have it, the remaining warriors have brought the last of the stones required to build the second statue. Narex and Jocal begin working on building it, whilst Aryen and Jocal help Fyraf bring in the stones for the final statue. The rest seems to have been effective as Aryen and Hagal have some renewed energy

With time running short, Narex and Jocal continue their efforts to build the second statue. Aryen, Jocal and Fyraf continue to bring the pieces for the final statue, while Fyraf may have the better stamina of the 3, his continued efforts to carry statues have worn him down. As Narex and Jocal complete the second statue, the time runs out on the warriors, only 2 survival packs earned.

Jocal: This is first time that I will say this but I have underperformed in that survival challenge mainly because of my weakness, I worry about the days ahead because it will be hard on all warriors

Hagal: I am worried about the days ahead mainly because of the villains that are taking control; I definitely feel that it is going to affect me emotionally.

Aryen: If we're not careful, we're going to end up with no survival packs left. That'd be devastating to our chance of success.

Fyraf: If we don't manage to turn this around, we're going to fail, there's nothing more to it. So we will turn this around!

Scene 4

Drop Zone Beta, 14:00 BST

The Penguin stands around his men, and the Electrocutoner

Penguin: Here's how it works, you'd better protect these weapons with your lives, else your LIVES AINT GONNA BE WORTH LIVING! I have another hundred men coming aboard the island tonight, I need to arm them. Baron Zemo hasn't seen how many men I have. (He leaves)

Interception

Key: Black Boxes: Weapons crates

Red dots: Armed men

Darker red dot with black outline: Sniper

Transparent red circle: Sniper's range

Blue Circle: The Electrocutoner

More weapons crates and more armed thugs, this time joined by the Electrocutoner, things don't look good for the warriors in this challenge. The warriors quickly find cover and wait for the armed men to turn their backs, Ayren quickly runs to the bottom left weapons cache and takes down the armed guard nearby. As Jocal comes out and takes out her nearest guard.

Fyraf quickly makes his move and takes out a guard directly behind the Electrocutoner. Fyraf proceeds forward behind a weapons crate, now in the targeting range of the sniper. Ayren waits for a perfect moment and enters the sniper's range and takes out the guard, before hiding behind a weapon's crate. Narex, Hagal and Jocal enter the range, and hide behind a crate.

With the other guards completely oblivious to what's just happened they continue to stay still. Ayren uses an opportunity to get behind the sniper and take him down, with the main threat neutralised Hagal and Jocal take on the remaining 2 armed men, with all the armed men down, all that's left is the Electrocutoner

Hoping to avoid being seen, the warriors stay behind cover. Narex prepares the sleeping potion to use on him, but he knows that he'll have to get close enough to use it. Narex eventually makes his move and before the Electrocutoner can see him, he uses the sleeping potion on him, knocking him out. The warriors are careful taking off his gloves

Hagal manages to get the gloves on and quickly figures out how they work. The weapons in the crates were laser based, so enough electricity running through them would disarm them. Hagal proceeds to each of the weapons crates and activates the gloves once touching them. With all the weapons disarmed the warriors depart, having delayed the Penguin's plans

Aryen: We've defeated The Penguin's forces once, we can do it again. We're not going to let him win!

Fyraf: I'm not afraid of the Penguin, I will defeat him, and I will destroy him.

Scene 5

Drop Zone Delta, 16:00 BST

Baron Strucker: You sure this weapons drop is gonna happen?

Baron Zemo: It'll happen, and we have our finest agents ready to pick them up. No one's getting past these guys easily.

Baron Strucker: You'd better be right, Zemo

Baron Zemo: Have faith, Wolfgang, HYDRA will be victorious (they depart from the scene, leaving their armed guards preparing for a weapons drop)

7Unwanted Attention

Key: As with Interception

The warriors discover the HYDRA camp, filled with armed guards and snipers but they must pass through in order to continue their journey. They realise that it would be suicide to take them on directly but worry that the only way to pass through without being seen is to enter the range of the snipers, where they would be very careful.

Aryen suggests the strategy that in order to make as little noise as possible, they must enter this challenge one at a time. Jocal is the first to attempt the trial, she waits for the sniper's beam to be pointing away and quickly makes it behind cover, safe from either side; she shuffles through the narrow area, and sees his next running point

Jocal waits for the sniper to be pointing away again, and makes a dash for it, she makes it behind cover without being spotted by the armed guards, but knows that she still has work to do. After finding the right time she quickly but silently makes her way to the final point of cover. She looks around and sees the perfect time to make it safely to the other side

Aryen is the next to face the challenge, her timing seems to be sound, and her stealth hasn't lead her wrong, she makes it out safely and Hagal is the next to enter. Hagal, though one of the least stealthy members of the group seems to have no problem with the challenge, and also makes it to the other side safely.

Fyraf is the next warrior to enter the range of the snipers, and his timing serves him well, he passes through the challenge, undetected, leaving only Narex to participate. Narex is rather apprehensive about the challenge, his fear of weapons still shaking from previous trials, none the less; he gives his all here and makes it to safety, the warriors all live this day.

Aryen: The HYDRA forces seem formidable, kitted out with everything they need to take us down, we need to be careful from here on out.

Fyraf: Now we're being faced by even more enemies, will they ever stop? It just seems like, whenever we achieve something, we get faced by twice the challenge.

Jocal: I'm definitely worried about the fate of the island now HYDRA is on it because it really put more worry on all of us who are here

Hagal: I'm really worried because the fate of the island really rests upon us warriors to stop HYDRA and win the battle against Dominor

Scene 6

Drop Zone Beta, 17:00 BST

The Penguin sees all his weapons disarmed

Penguin: I really can't trust your idiots with anything, can I? (The Electrocuter recovers) I warned you what would happen if you failed me Buchinsky! (He points his umbrella at the Electrocuter and fires an armour-piercing bullet at him, killing him) the rest of you count yourself lucky I saw this coming and used this site as a decoy. We'll have a full army to launch upon Zemo tomorrow morning (he gets a phone call) this had better be good
Cuttler

Calculator: (On phone) Deadshot will be arriving tonight

Penguin: Now that's the kind of news I like to hear

Scene 7

Drop Zone Delta, 17:35 BST

Baron Zemo and Baron Strucker see another hundred HYDRA agents and weapons dropped off, Baron Zemo examines the weapons

Baron Zemo: Excellent craftsmanship, finally we'll have the resources to attack the Penguin.

Scene 8

Royal Palace, 18:00 BST

Dominator speaks to one of his men

Dominator: You have done well, I shall prepare the weapons we require and we will march upon Nevar tomorrow morning. (He shoots his informant, and enters another secret room; Raven is tied up, struggling, with Utawe next to him)

Utawe: He is strong, his fears a little tough for my tastes. You promised me children, Dominor, I want children!

Dominator: All in good time, Utawe, all in good time. Leave us (Utawe leaves the secret room, Raven tries to attack Dominor but can't) while you wear that inhibitor collar you are powerless (he presses a button that electrocutes Raven, Dominor laughs)

Raven: Why play this game? You can destroy me now and all will end.

Dominator: You are a powerful man and a powerful weapon. Baron Zemo wants you delivered to him. I will oblige, but not yet. Miseruntque eum in dolore (Raven screams in agony as the camera pans out)

Next time on Raven: The Reckoning

The armies march on each other, can the warriors survive being caught in the crossfire of a 4-faction war?

And will Raven survive being delivered into HYDRAs care?
